TREAT FOR ORPHANS

Catholic Knights of America to Give Benefit Ball.

IN CONVENTION HALL

Every Boy in St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum Will Be Made Happy on Thanksgiving Day, When an Entertainment Will Be Given for His Benefit—Songs and Addresses.

Every boy in St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum will receive a special Thanksgiving treat through the kindness of the Catholic Knights of America, whose annual benefit ball, to be given Thanksgiving evening in Convention Hall, promises to be one of the most successful held. For twenty-six years the charitable knights have brought to a successful consummation this labor of love for the orphans. St. Joseph's Asylum, with its corps of Sisters and more than 100 parentless boys, receives no aid from any official source, but depends largely upon the donations of its generous friends for funds necessary to carry on the work of the asylum. For twenty-six years the local branches of the Catholic Knights of America have taken special charge of this orphanage, and through their annual entertainment and ball and the personal solicitation by their donation committees of money and supplies from the business men, have given efficient support to this worthy charity. The committee on donations request friends of the orphans to send money, clothing, fuel, and food, which are much needed, to the asylum, 111 street, between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest, on or before Thanksgiving Day.

Songs and Addresses.
The entertainment this year will consist of an address of welcome by Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Shanahan, rector of the Catholic University; patriotic songs, and an exhibition of calisthenics by the orphan boys, and fancy dances, illustrative of the dances of England, Scotland, and Ireland by the five little Crowe children. Following the entertainment will be the ball, the music for which will be provided by an augmented orchestra under direction of Prof. J. L. Fersinger. The committees in charge are as follows:
Executive committee—Edward J. Hanman, president; M. A. Mess, vice president; N. H. Shea, treasurer; John A. Madigan, secretary, and Michael A. Keane, chairman donation committee. Officers of the ball—J. Henry Buscher, master of ceremonies; Hon. William H. De Lacy, floor manager; Dr. A. D. Wilkinson, and P. J. Nee, assistant floor managers.

CHILD LABOR DECREASING.

Inspector Makes Monthly Report of Enforcement of Law.

Thirteen places of business voluntarily discontinued child labor during the last half of the month of October, according to the report submitted yesterday to the Commissioners by the inspector of child labor. "One thousand eight hundred and seventeen permits and badges have been issued to newsboys and street vendors," says the report, "and 4,513 age and school certificates were issued. Our records show a total of 34 places of business employing 453 children under the age of sixteen years. Two cases of illegal employment of child labor were reported and prosecuted, and five complaints have been received, investigated, and adjusted according to the provisions of the law."

STUDIES WASHINGTON POLICE.

Cuban Official in Report Praises District Public Safety System.

Senor Cesar A. Barranco, chancellor of the Cuban Legation in Washington, a student of criminology, has just completed an exhaustive research and study of the police department of this city, which he is forwarding to his home government at Havana. "Washington can well be proud of its department of public safety," said Senor Barranco yesterday at the legation's offices in the Union Trust Building. "The great efficiency of your police department, one of the best that has come under my observation after a study of the police systems of the Old World and the principal cities of this country, is undoubtedly due to the great tact, judgment, and executive ability of Maj. Richard Sylvester, superintendent. The city and country owe a great debt of gratitude to him for his eminent services to the community and country both in his position from a local viewpoint and as the president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and the head of the Bureau of International Criminal Identification."

RELIEF CORPS ENTERTAINED.

Women of Phil Sheridan Branch Guests of G. A. R. Post.

The women of Phil Sheridan Relief Corps are indebted to Phil Sheridan Post for a reception and entertainment given Thursday evening, November 18, at Freund's. An address of welcome was delivered by Commander C. M. Robinson, who presided over the following programme:
Comrade C. F. Garrett on "Women of the war"; Miss Lucille Smith, vocal solo; Forrest Grimes, piano solo; Department Commander Holbrook on "Women as wives and mothers"; Mrs. I. Worrell Ball on "Patriotism"; a reading of Kipling's poem, "Let Us Forget"; Mrs. George McDonald in songs; and Thomas S. Hopkins in "Reminiscences of the war."

WANTS CAR LINE EXTENDED.

J. H. Etheridge Urges Commissioners to Make Rock Creek Accessible.
That Rock Creek Park can only be enjoyed by those having their own conveyances, is the assertion of J. H. Etheridge, of 1527 Q street northwest, in a letter to the Commissioners calling attention to the necessity for having the Mount Pleasant car line extended to the limits of the park. Mr. Etheridge says in his letter:
"I desire to call your attention to the necessity of having the Mount Pleasant car line extended to Rock Creek Park. This would be of untold benefit to the residents of Washington. This beautiful park can now be enjoyed only by the few who have their own conveyances. I hope you will take the matter up at an early date, as I know there are many who, like myself, are desirous of making frequent trips to the park, but find it quite inaccessible."
Similar letters have been received by the Commissioners urging this extension as soon as possible, from John S. Cotton, H. E. Burke, and J. L. Webb.

NOT A "SUFFRAGETTE."

Mrs. Philip Snowden Will Advocate Peaceful Means for Suffragists.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, the young wife of a member of the English Parliament, who will speak at Old Masonic Temple tomorrow evening, is a suffragist, not a suffragette. Coming so soon after Mrs. Pankhurst with her militant methods, this fact makes the visit of Mrs. Snowden peculiarly interesting. "Peace at Parliament through a woman's eye" is the title of her lecture. Ever since her marriage, Mrs. Snowden has virtually lived in the House of Commons. Often she has taken her husband's place before audiences, when through invalidism, he could not attend. The College Equal Suffrage League will entertain Mrs. Snowden at luncheon, after which an informal public reception will be given in her honor at woman suffrage headquarters, 1823 H street northwest, from 3:30 to 5 to-morrow afternoon.

MR. WELLER INDORSED.

Citizens of Northeast Desire Him Named to Commission.

Michael I. Weller was unanimously indorsed to succeed one of the retiring Commissioners by the representatives of four of the East Washington citizens' associations, at a meeting at 225 Pennsylvania avenue southeast last night. The associations represented and their representatives were: East Washington, Thomas W. Smith; Lincoln Park, D. A. Edwards; Northeast Washington, William J. Frizzell; Southeast Washington, H. A. Calahan. On resolution of William J. Frizzell, the associations will send a petition to the President, which states "that we unanimously, without regard to partisanship, politics, or other reservations or exceptions, indorse our fellow-citizen, Michael I. Weller, for appointment to one of the Commissionerships by the President of the United States." "In consideration of the fact that East Washington comprises one-half of the area and taxable property of the District, with a large and ever growing population, we have always felt, as we feel now, that we have not received the consideration we should have, and most confidently appeal to the fairness of the President to recognize the justice of our request by selecting Mr. Weller, whom we regard as the peer of any man in honor, integrity, and administrative ability." The representatives had been appointed by the executive committees of the four associations, with full power to act for their respective organizations. Thomas W. Smith presented a resolution which was adopted, providing that the petition be presented to the President as soon as possible by a committee composed of three men from each association.

NATION GETS 'POSSUMS.

Droop Brothers Pass Gift on to Zoological Park.

A pair of fat, young 'possums from Rockbridge County, Va., is the latest addition to the 'possum pen of the National Zoological Park. They were destined for the dinner tables of Edward H. Droop and Carl H. Droop, but, as one of the brothers explained, "They were such innocent little creatures that we didn't have the heart to kill them. We deliberated what to do, and finally decided to turn them over to the kindly care of the nation." The 'possums are not more than seven or eight months old, and are, altogether, excellent specimens. Dispatches from Rockbridge County state that the animals were sent by a Virginia Republican to President Taft, care of one of the Droop brothers. Mr. Droop, however, says that the 'possums were promised them by a friend, J. W. Evans, of Weyers Cave.

BRADLEY BANISHED

Must Leave Maryland or Go to the Penitentiary.

JUDGE GIVES HIM CHOICE

Former Deputy Sheriff of Montgomery County Chooses Banishment. Convicted of Terrorizing Two Women—Judge Tells Him He Is an Undesirable Citizen.

Seven years in the penitentiary or leave the State of Maryland for good was the choice given Edward Bradley, a former deputy sheriff and constable, and at present a deputy game warden of Montgomery County, by Judge James B. Henderson in the Circuit Court at Rockville yesterday, upon pleading guilty to an indictment charging him with injuring a dwelling.

Bradley elected to leave the State and was allowed four days by Judge Henderson to take his departure. He was warned that if he ever returned to any part of Maryland he would be taken into custody, brought to Rockville, and sentenced to the penitentiary for the term indicated. The offense to which Bradley pleaded guilty yesterday consisted of visiting the house of Mrs. Minnie M. Perry, of the Bethesda district, terrorizing Mrs. Perry and her daughter. Bradley kicked over a stove and smashed several window panes with shots from his revolver. His only excuse was that he was drunk at the time.

Since his residence in Montgomery County, Bradley has been in court a number of times. Bradley was told by Judge Henderson that he was regarded as an undesirable citizen by the people of the Bethesda neighborhood, where he resides, and that his banishment from the State would be a source of gratification to them.
